saving lives?

Last year, your tax credit dollars opened Freedom House...
This year you can expand Freedom House and grow Hope for Addiction!

Ok, but... I always get a refund.
Can I still participate?

an act of saving or being saved from danger or distress

For the Son of Man came to seek and to save the lost.
Luke 19:10

Through various situations the past few months, I am struck by and in awe of God's amazing love to rescue. Not the rescue of the deserving, but the despised. Every day in the midst of heartbreaking situations, it is easy to become lost in the darkness. The past three years my own personal darkness with the deaths of four people I love has, at times, obscured the mercy of the Lord to save. But as I step back, I am overwhelmed by the love of God to rescue. He rescued me. And He is rescuing broken people every day and giving them, not just sobriety, but a new life.

YOU are part of that rescue. Your prayers, your service to the hurting and your financial partnership keeps Hope for Addiction moving forward, actively presenting the hope of Christ to transform. I am humbled by so many who have been a part since the beginning, giving faithfully, as well as those who are newly acquainted with Hope for Addiction and are excited to partner with us to bring the good news to even more people in need of rescue.

Because of your partnership in the gospel (Philippians 1:5), many are finding hope and experiencing a new life, literally being rescued from the domain of darkness. Thank you for being a part of God's loving rescue of the hurting and broken.

A NEW LIFE

Jennifer
Woodson

John and I were married November 2018, and on October 17, 2019 we welcomed sweet Shae Marie Woodson into our family! Five years ago, when I came to Hope for Addiction, I literally had nothing but a car full of belongings, hope for my future and fear of the unknown. Because of your faithfulness, I not only received the support and tools I needed, but I also found a family and a new life. When Shae was born, my "Hope for Addiction family" were among the first to meet Shae just hours after her arrival. What a blessing it was to see familiar faces who I knew loved John, Shae and me! This is what makes Hope for Addiction different... lifelong friendships built on Jesus, walking life together in the sorrows and the joys. John, Shae and I are doing great!

Hope for Addiction has helped my family tremendously. My mom, Jamie Smith, is a completely new person. My relationship with my mother has benefited so much and she is invested in my life. We tell each other everything and we are constantly laughing and enjoying life together. When we have a problem it is always worked out and we never yell at each other. She walks in the freedom of the Lord and has a new glow to her. Hope for Addiction has made my family life a hundred times better. We are all open about our struggles and talk about ways to solve them. Hope for Addiction for our family means love and forgiveness.

Our involvement with Hope for Addiction comes solely from the Lord. When looking back on our lives, separately and now together, we recognize the amount of addiction that has surrounded us, from our own problems with alcohol to many very close to us. Therefore, it is no surprise that God has given us a heart for those who are hurting and suffering from addiction. From our own redemption stories, we've seen that true change comes from a full surrender to Jesus, not a self-sufficient "I can do this" attitude. We want to increase the kingdom of God, not just help people achieve temporary sobriety. Jesus offers true freedom and true heart change, which is why we believe in what Hope for Addiction is doing. We are grateful to walk alongside people who have a heart for those who are lost and broken. We are blessed to have been brought here in our walk with Jesus!

Freedom house has shown me how to hope again. I have always believed in the Lord, but I consider myself a new believer since coming to Freedom House. I went from just believing and hoping for the best, to hoping in God and knowing Him. I'm not fighting alone anymore. My soul has been saved and my spirit has been brought out of darkness.

As a grieving mother who had no hope after burying two kids, Hope for Addiction has helped me more than any other place.
